

Safe System Of Work Wins Construction Industry Recognition

Thursday, 11th May 2006, Turner Access Ltd was announced The Specialists in Construction Awards 2006, Access and Scaffolding Specialist of the Year, for the second year in a row. Becoming inaugural winners in 2005 and being awarded first prize again in 2006, represents a great achievement for Turner Access. The company has been awarded this prestigious prize for its Safe System of Work. Through an innovative drive to improve safety within the access and construction industry, Turner Access can save the lives of people working at height. By achieving Best Practice in the Work at Height Regulations 2005 with the innovative PlusGard™ Advanced Guardrail, Turner Access is first for safety.

The Work at Height Regulations 2005 require that companies achieve the highest level of control measures to prevent the risk of a fall. Scaffolders and users working at height can now be safe in the knowledge that a complete Safe System of Work is available. In light of recent scaffolding accidents, Turner Access and its recognition for innovation and safety will be welcome news within industry.

Ends.

Date of Issue: 12 May 2006

For further information, please contact John Griffiths on 0141 309 5525